DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-18, drawn to a process for treating at least one particle in a channel with the step of contactless fixing.

Group II, claim(s) 19-35, drawn to a microfluidic device comprising a channel and a holding device for holding at least one particle.

Group III, claim(s) 36-41, drawn to an arrangement of electrodes for holding suspended particles in a fluidic system.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I, II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The inventions of Groups I, II and III comprise a process and a device and the common technical feature of a fluidic microsystem with means for contactless holding of at least one particle. Such process and device with means for holding lack novelty over the prior art. For instance, U.S. Patent Application Publication 2002/0181837 (M. Wang et al.) discloses microfluidic devices with channels comprising a radiation transparent substrate and their methods for use in selective manipulation or trapping with optical pressure forces (contactless holding).

Further, the invention of Group III, a fluidic device with channels and a holding means comprising an arrangement of electrodes for contactless holding of particles does not distinguish over the prior art: U.S. Patent Application Publication 2002/0088712 (R. R. Miles) discloses fluid devices with channels and dielectrophoretic means for trapping cells or particles by switching of electric fields created by pairs of electrodes.

3. A telephone call was made to Peter Yim on 02/03/2009 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
